SOCIETY

THE wedding of Miss Elizabeth Winter Jones, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Marshall Jones, to Richard Henry Carter Beverly, son of William Beverly, of Broad Run, Va., will be celebrated on Wednesday evening, May 25, at 8 o'clock, in the home of the bride's parents, in Alexandria, and will be witnessed by only a small company of relatives and intimate friends. The ceremony will be performed by the Rev. Father Gaston Payne, of Clifton Forge, Va., an uncle of the bride, assisted by Father Cutley and Father Kelley. Miss Ann Lewis Jones will be her sister maid of honor and only attendant. Edmund Hunter, of Alexandria, will be the groom's best man. Miss Jones will be the first of a long list of brides in Virginia society, and this wedding will unite two of the oldest and most distinguished lines of the State aristocracy. A reception, to which over 200 guests have been invited, will follow the ceremony, and a number of out-of-town guests have been included in the invitations.

Spending Some Time in Europe.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Brown sailed May 4 to spend the summer in England, where Mr. Brown expects to try some of the famous golf links. They have planned to spend the autumn in Paris and the winter months in Southern Italy, remaining abroad for a year.

After having visited friends in Washington and Philadelphia, Mr. and Mrs. William Robert Vawter will sail on May 28 for Europe for an extended and indefinite stay on the Continent.

Guest of Miss Johnston.

Miss Mary Johnston, who is now at the Walden Springs, expects to have as her cottage guest for the last week in May Miss Ray Costello, of England. Miss Costello was with Mrs. Dr. Anna Howard Shaw at the University of Virginia this spring, and made a very delightful impression on her first visit to Virginia, and will doubtless be equally as cordially received at the Warm.

To Leave for the East.

William B. Christian, who for the past three years has made his home in Hongkong, China, and the Philippine Islands, has been the guest of his parents, Judge and Mrs. George L. Christian, at 515 West Grace Street. Mr. Christian will sail next week for Manila, where he expects to remain for the next two years.

Mr. George E. Still, of 302 North Rowland Street, gave an "at-home" on Tuesday afternoon in honor of her aunt, Mrs. Thomas Clemmitt, and Miss Ireland, of Baltimore. The house was beautifully decorated in palms, ferns, hydrangeas and American Beauty roses. Miss Kate Clemmitt presided at the punch bowl and assisted Mrs. Still in receiving.

Among those who called were Mesdames William Clemmitt, Thompson, Nettie Mitchell, Grannon Mosely, Davis, Selectman, Henry Pierce Adkins, Aubrey Bowles, Ludwell Hill, Virginia Sublett, Thomas Bowles, Neal, Carlyle, Edward Grey Chalkley, Mercer, Young, Roy Wemple Stevens, Murray, Crutehfield, Henning Phillips, Robert Lee Smith, Higgins, of Baltimore, Clifford B. Salmon, Misses Chalkley, Grace Smith, M. L. Derby, Alys Landrum, Clemmitt, Rosalie Selectman, Nellie Phillips.

Card Party Friday Afternoon.

Mrs. Daniel Herbert Schweyer, of Easton, Pennsylvania, who is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Engle, at 15 South Third Street, entertained at cards on Friday afternoon in honor of her friend, Miss Anderson, of Morristown, Pennsylvania.

Spending Summer in Maryland.

Mrs. John Skelton Williams, of the Hermitage Road, left recently to open her camp in Blue Ridge Summit, Maryland, for the summer. Miss Marie Louise Isaacs, who has been the guest of Mrs. Williams, here for the past winter, will also spend the summer with her sister in Maryland.

House Party in Gloucester.

Mrs. Henry A. Williams is the hostess of a very delightful house party at her mother's home, "Sherwood Forest," in Gloucester county. Some of her guests for the affair are Mrs. Coleman Vortham and Mrs. Robert Blankenship, of Richmond.

At the Woman's Club.

There will be an informal musical at the Woman's Club to-morrow afternoon under the direction of Miss Zelle Minor, who will also be the pianist of the occasion. She will be assisted by Little Miss Maria Adkins, whose wonderful playing of the violin is always a delight, and by Miss Margery Groce, of Dallas, Texas, a very charming soloist.

On Friday, May 27, promptly at 8:30 P. M. the closing card tournament will be played in the parlors of the club with bridge whist as the game. The usual rules about gentleman partners and registering tables will hold good. Prominent Visitors See Baltimore.

The Countess de Cantabria, of Milan, formerly of Baltimore, will make a ten-day stay with Mr. and Mrs. Edward K. Rowland at their country home in Devon, beginning Saturday. The countess was Miss Clair Patterson, of Baltimore, a descendant of the family of Peter Patterson, who was the wife of Jerome Bonaparte, once King of Westphalia. Mrs. J. Hampton Barnes, Mrs. C. C. Harrison, Jr., and Mrs. C. Emory McMichael will reside at the tea to be given by Mrs. Rowland on May 28. The countess will be extensively entertained during her stay. Mrs. McMichael will entertain for the countess at dinner on May 28, as will Mrs. Barnes on May 27, while Mrs. William Bullitt will entertain the countess at luncheon before the horse show on May 31. The countess will also be among the guests at the house party to be given by Mr. and Mrs. Craig Biddle on May 25. On the same evening Mr. and Mrs. George W. Childs-Drexel will entertain the countess and the other house guests of Mr. and Mrs. Biddle at dinner. Mrs. Harrison will give a luncheon on June 30 before the horse show, at which the countess will be the guest of honor.

Returning This Week.

Miss Helen Rose, who has been a student at Fairmount Seminary, in Washington, D. C., will return to Richmond this week. Miss Rose was among the guests attending a reception given by Mrs. Taft at the White House last Tuesday afternoon.

Says the Washington Post of Wednesday morning:

"No more interesting reception has marked their residence in the White House than that given by the President and Mrs. Taft yesterday afternoon, when their guests were the young women and girls from the various seminaries and boarding schools at Washington. There were 700 and more, representing every type of girl, from the demure convent maiden, with a touch of quaintness in her manner, to the progressive young college woman, with a knowledge of calculus,

Maeterlinck and athletics, and they told the President how glad they were to meet him in the soft accent of the South, the precision of the North, and the drawl of the West.

"The President and Mrs. Taft received them in the Blue Room, where so many distinguished men and women have passed before them, and they looked as happy as their young guests. Capt. Archibald Butt made the presentations, and every aid on the White House staff was gallantly on duty.

"Mrs. Taft wore a gown of white messaline satin, embroidered in a floral design and trimmed with white lace.

"The state drawing rooms were decorated with spring flowers and the Engineers' Band played in the vestibule while the line was passing through the Blue Room. After all the guests had been received a musical program was given in the East Room. Miss Dagmar Rubner giving a number of piano selections and Miss Ethel Banks, who was accompanied to the White House by Miss Yvonne Townsend, singing several solos. The terrace leading from the East Room was open, and many promenaded there during the band concert and the musical program in the East Room."

Of interest here.

Says a recent Mobile paper:

"Bert Clifford, of Pass Christian, owner of the pretty cruising boat, the Pastime, came to the city Friday and paid a pretty compliment to Mrs. Bahen, of Richmond, the guest of Mrs. Norwood A. Richards, when he tendered her a water party on board his boat.

"The sextet, composed of Mrs. Clifford and Mrs. Bahen, Ed. Flinn and Miss Mary Bullock and Philip Kraus and Mrs. Richards, left the city at 3:30 o'clock and had a most enjoyable ride down the bay, the beautiful afternoon, bright company and delicious refreshments that were served on board, all adding to the success of the outing and making the time pass so pleasantly that it was 9:30 o'clock before they returned to the city.

"Mrs. Clifford left yesterday at noon and was accompanied by Philip Kraus, who will enjoy a ten days' cruise with him along the coast."

Mrs. Bahen, who was a sponsor at the recent reunion in Mobile, is the guest of Mrs. Norwood Richards at her beautiful home on Government Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller Entertained.

A very attractive and unique entertainment was given last Tuesday evening by Miss M. Louise Sutton, of 2305 Park Avenue, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Earle Miller, Mrs. Miller being one of the charming brides of the spring season. Decorations were in pink roses and palms with portieres of spoons strung on pink ribbons and a birch bark canoe filled with pink blossoms suspended in the center of the arch. Favors were in hand-painted spoons, the first prize being a silver lemonade spoon and the consolation a hand-painted wooden spoon tied with pink satin bows.

The bride cut the cake and Miss Celeste Welsiger, the hidden spoon. Mrs. George West presided at the punch bowl. The guests included: Mr. and Mrs. Earle Miller, Misses Bess Wunder, of Woodstock; Elizabeth Kelley, May Traylor, of Forest Hill; L. C. Kelley, Edith Parker, Virginia Daw, of Wytheville; Columbia Hargrove, Lucy Lewis, M. Louise Sutton, Helen Kern, of Roanoke; M. E. Sutton and Margaret E. Kern; Mrs. George West, Mrs. H. S. Kelley, Mrs. G. W. T. Kern; Messrs. R. A. Brock, Jr., James P. Hutcheson, George Harwood, C. A. Zine, C. Turner, N. Johnson, of Blackstone, Va.; Aubin Parker, T. H. Smith, Nathan Hargrove, Allan Goolsby, B. King, H. S. Kelley, T. Mahone, A. Sutton and G. W. T. Kern.

For Mrs. Cluis.

A number of charming affairs were given last week complimentary to Mrs. Victor Cluis, of Atlanta, Ga., who is visiting Mrs. S. B. Wilson.

A WEAK stomach will cause you to lose weight and strength very rapidly. Therefore, keep the stomach strong, the digestion perfect and the bowels open by taking

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTER

Mrs. Landstreet entertained at luncheon in the Westmoreland Club on Tuesday in her honor. The table was prettily decorated in crimson, rose and white. Mrs. Landstreet, entertained at bridge whist on Wednesday afternoon, also in honor of Mrs. Cluis.

Mrs. Cluis has been a recent guest of Mrs. George Powers.

Return to This Country.

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Taylor have engaged passage for their return to the United States and will sail from Cherbourg, France, on the steamship Majestic July 6. They will be accompanied by Dr. Harry B. Taylor, who for five years has been doing missionary work in China.

Party at Lake Drummond.

Miss Frances Farrel and Miss Hope Noel, of Stuart, Va., left on Wednesday for Norfolk to join a launch party to Lake Drummond. Before returning they will spend some time with friends at Cape Henry and Virginia Beach.

Commencement Program.

The commencement exercises of Mrs. W. E. Thurston's School will be held on Monday evening, May 30, at the Jefferson Hotel Auditorium. The program promises to be unusually bright and attractive. Miss Margaret Stoltz, who graduates from the dramatic attitudes course, will read in descriptive romance, Misses Alice Wood and Stella Jolly, of the practical class, will each be heard in humorous monologue, and Miss Ethel Lassiter, also of the practical class, will render a characterization with musical accompaniment.

Miss Nannie Crawford will give a dramatic costume recitation and W. H. Kelley a humorous characterization. The half-practical class will be represented by Miss Helen White in descriptive humor. The Shakespeare dramatic attitudes, representing fifty-eight human emotions, will be given by Misses Ida Dillard and Marguerite Stoltz with musical accompaniment. Miss Jean Field, Misses Florence Kidd and Bessie Crass will enact, in costume, a charming little satire on the soapman.

A beautiful spectacular revel will be performed by nine young ladies dressed in the class colors, heliotrope and white, and wearing the class flower, a white rose. This will be led out by Misses Ida Dillard, Ethel Lassiter, Alice Wood, Stella Jolly, Alleen Hard, Amanda Pitts, Helen

White and Merle Franck.

Music will be rendered by the Conservatory Mandoline Orchestra, led by Prof. Ernest E. Cosby. Diplomas and medals will be delivered by the Rev. W. R. L. Smith.

School Exhibition.

The Valentine Kindergarten and the John Smith School will hold an
